

Application for 2017-18 Community-Based Learning (CBL) Faculty Fellowship

Please complete application electronically; then print, sign, and deliver it (or send via campus mail) to the Center for Civic Engagement, THC, 201. ATTN: Terry Dolson

Applications are due by 5:00 p.m., March 24, 2017.

Name:

Department:

Faculty status/job title:

UR ID Number:

Number of years employed by the university:

Proposed course title:

Does this course have a current catalogue number (e.g., ENG 360)?

Are you applying for the traditional CBL faculty fellows group or the East End Cemetery Collaboratory?

Expected number of students:

Will this class be offered in fall 2017 or spring 2018?

How have you participated in CCE programs in the past?

In one paragraph, please explain why you are interested in becoming more connected to the greater Richmond community (or the East End Cemetery, if you are applying to participate in the Collaboratory).

In one paragraph, tell us why you are especially interested in participating in a CBL Faculty Fellows group (or the East End Cemetery Collaboratory). What positives do you think you would bring to the group? What positives do you think the group holds for you?

I understand that, if accepted, I will receive:

- $500 for both workshop/meeting days,
- $500 for the daylong syllabus review,
- $500 per semester for FLC participation, and
- $1200 summer stipend to develop community partnership and CBL syllabus.
- TOTAL: $3200 for full participation during 2017-18 academic year

My department chair/dean (_____) will send an email to Terry Dolson to verify that the course will be offered in calendar year 2017-18 and that I have the support of my department to teach the course (as well as to work with the faculty-learning community, should I so choose).

I understand that one of the main challenges of gathering groups together is finding common times, so I agree that, if selected as a fellow, I will respond in a timely manner to all requests for scheduling information and will make CBL meetings a high priority.
